

The Dean's message:

As the dean of Thi-Qar College of Medicine, I pleased to welcome you all in our official college's website. It's a privilege to be in this position for many reasons. First, the name Thi-Qar was the heartland of the ancient Iraqi civilization of Sumer where the ancient city of Ur and the homeland of the prophet and messenger Abraham. Second, Thi-Qar embraces the first civilization of Mesopotamia who taught human being the first letter of writing and reading and this has significant value among every Iraqi in Nasiriyah city and it represents our history, present, and future. Therefore, working in this university and serving community in Thi-Qar province is a main duty for me and my colleagues.

The community of Thi-Qar College of Medicine including faculty, staff, and students are working shoulder to shoulder to in a spirit of togetherness and mutual support to achieve success and prosperity. The Deanship is committed to develop the medical education through update the syllabus and laboratory equipment in addition to establish new research center among the college. This will participate in providing high level of teaching to our students based on the medical international criteria. That will reflect on our graduates and community.

I would like to express my gratefully thank all my faculty colleagues in Thi-Qar College of Medicine at the University of Thi-Qar for their hard work and I also invite them to do more in order to develop our college, city, and our country Iraq.

Prof.Dr

Wajdy Jabar Majid
